PIANOS.
GAINED FIRST PREMIUM FOR GREATEST merit at the New Orleans Cotton Centennial and WORLE'S Exposition for refined and wonderful power of tone, elegance of design, and superb finish. Only piano endorsed by United States commissioners, from each of the States. Cases finest carved, rosewood finish—finest imported double repeating action—three strings throughout of best patent steel wire—keys best ivory. Our new patent steel tuning device, instead of wood, is the greatest invention ever made in pianos. It consists of stationary STEEL tuning pins that are set in a mold and molten STEEL is run round the pins keeping them solidly in place. A thimble or shell pin is made to exactly fit the stationary pin revolving therein; thus the strings wind round the pins. After the strings are properly stretched the piano can never get out of tune, the rest plank being of STEEL not affected by extremes of climate. This will be be appreciated by all musicians in city or country. It will stand twenty years without tuning and is good for 100. No other piano has this improvement.
Great strength and durability is another advantage. In other pianos holes are bored in wooden boards and tuning pins inserted. The pins turn round in this board and cannot stand permanently in tune, and it often cracks, splits, drys out, becoming utterly, totally and entirely worthless as a musical instrument. Our STEEL tuning device is in no way affected by such casualities, and the sounding board is so constructed that our pianos can never become thin or metallic in tone. They are always in tune and the expense of tunning is saved. This patent alone is worth millions and makes our piano the greatest in the world. Prices are no higher than other pianos. Buying direct from us, the largest manufacturers, you save $100 or $200—dealers' profits. Don't mind the ominous growlings of dealers and agents, who see their chances of selling a poor piano at a big profit of $200—slipping away—pity them.
We guarantee our pianos ten years. 200 styles. We have put our prices at lowest bed-rock for Cash.
A $600 Piano for $259.50; a $900 Piano for $297.50; a $1200 Piano for $375.50; a $1500 Piano for $475.50.
Upright Cabinet Grands, with stool and rubber cover shipped on board cars at S. F., to any part of the United States, Canada or Mexico. Our terms are cash with order. If not as represented money returned. We occassionally have good second-hand pianos, made over at $100 to $300, which we take in part payment for our own. Write or call for catalogue, free.

A THRIFTY PEOPLE.

MILLIONS OF MONEY LAID BY FOR A RAINY DAY.

The Saving Man's Dollar, and How He Houses It in Boston Banks—Watching the Crowd on a Busy Day—Deposits and Depositors.

At the beginning of the year of grace 1888 there were fifteen savings banks in Boston, having in charge about $93,000,000 belonging to nearly 325,000 depositors. Since the first of the year two more savings banks have been established in the city, so that these figures are under rather than over the facts at the present moment. It may truly be said that in no city in the country, or, for that matter, in the world, are savings banks more conservatively, honorably and safely conducted than in Boston. These local banks have, as a rule, had public confidence, and their reputation leaves nothing to be desired. An officer in one of the savings banks informs the writer that the major portion of the depositors are women. When asked why this is so he gave it as his opinion that the women are not so much given to making "investments" as the men. They prefer to put their money in a reputable institution where they know it will be "safe," and where it will draw a certain interest.

Post yourself in a convenient corner at one of the leading savings banks on a busy day and watch the crowd. As an opportunity to study humanity this could hardly be excelled. At the noon hour the depositors come by dozens, some to leave money and some to take it. Those who leave the money seem to have the best of it, if one may judge by their faces. A man always draws on his deposit with an air of regret, or, at any rate, there are few cases in which this will not hold true. At the head of the line there is a little old woman who is not at all at her ease. The line behind presses upon her, and she does not relish being hurried, although it is evident that she will be nothing loath to leave the place once she has completed her transaction. She has come, it appears, with an order from her son, who has an account here and who is at home ill, and she wants $10. But the order is not properly filled up, and the teller tries to explain the error and inform her with as much courtesy and pains as time will permit, that she must go home and have the mistake rectified before she can have the money. This she does not understand, and you can plainly see that she entertains her "suspicions" of the bank. "It's her Jim's money, an' she's a right to it when he tells her to come and get it," and she half threatens to "have the law on the place" if the cashier will not stand and deliver.

Time is being wasted, and the crowd becomes impatient, and, finally, some one in the line assures the old lady that the matter will be "all right" if she will follow the advice of the cashier. So off she goes, mumbling. Then comes a man of about 30 or 35, looking quite prosperous, and holding a bank book in which a number of bills are snugly reposing.

"You can't deposit any more money, sir, your account is full," says the receiver.

"No more money! Why, what do you mean by that? Thought banks would take as much money as you'd give 'em."

"We are not permitted to allow any one to deposit more than $1,000, and your account has already reached that amount, I find."

"Must I draw it out then?"

"Oh, no; you can allow it to remain until, with interest, it accumulates to the extent of $1,600. After that time, although you may let the money remain here, it will draw no more interest."

"Queer business, that," exclaims the prosperous man, who thereupon takes himself off.

This may seem "queer business" to the person who knows nothing of savings banks, yet it may be explained by the fact that savings banks were not intended for well to do people, but for folk of humble means. Of course, if you are fortunate enough to have $1,000 in one bank, you can go to another bank and open an account, but if the officials have any reason to suspect that you are a man of means they may question you very closely, and, if they are not satisfied with your replies, they are at liberty to reject your financial offering altogether.

Here comes a mother asking if she will be permitted to deposit money in her child's name, although the child is only two or three months old. She finds that she can do so, and she is delighted. There are a great many calls at the savings banks for purposes of this sort. Parents, also, frequently deposit small sums on the anniversaries of their children's birth, and they allow the money to remain in the bank and accumulate until the children "come of age." Executors often use these banks to deposit the funds of an estate during the two years the law allows them for settling up affairs. Religious and charitable organizations are exempt from the $1,000 restriction. The average rate of interest paid by the Massachusetts savings banks last year was 4.06 per cent.

Two lines of people come streaming into the bank, one line going to the receiving teller and the other line to the paying teller. Men, women, boys and girls make up the crowd. Sometimes, especially on Saturdays, a whole family will troop into the place while "dad" draws something for the marketing, or for clothing the young ones; or perhaps there is a family celebration of some kind on foot, and they all want a share of the spoil. Boys are generally very proud when they make their first deposits. They already begin to feel like capitalists, and they are generally pretty faithful to their savings.

Clerks, bookkeepers, office boys, salesgirls, newsboys, bootblacks, young exquisites whose fathers have given them some pocket money on condition that they will put by a certain sum every week, mechanics, masons, teamsters, young maids and old ones, old men and old women, all or the most of them bearing marks of their respective trades or callings, and some of them the tools of their trades, come into the bank, and fall in line. It is easy enough to distinguish the habitues, so to speak, from the new comers; the first go about their business in a very matter of fact fashion, and the others fidget, ask all sorts of irrelevant questions, and are often as nervous when signing their names as if they were signing their own death warrants. The poorer and middling classes most generally patronize the savings banks because the sums they have on hand are not sufficient to warrant them in taking the trouble to invest in real estate, or in other ways. There are thousands of widows whose names are on the bank books, some of them treasuring the remnants of insurance money, or little dividends, or government pensions, and others bringing their weekly earnings.—Beston Herald.

MIDNIGHT.

'Tis night's midgiory—Earth, so calm, so still,
On couch of space is wrapped in slumber's spell;
How soft and pure her bosom's rounded swell
'Neath fleecy robes, and placid radiance shed
From silver orb, like watcher's lamp, o'erhead!
While starry regions dimly throng and fill
Her airy chamber, whence all sound is fled.
Save breath of Hving prayer, or whir of wings
As angels viewless pass, or heavenward springs
The guardian who hath wrought the Father's will.
Midnight and moonlight, silence, stars and God—
Sublimest height Diurnal Time hath trod.
—Edward McCarthy in Woman.

A Funeral in British Honduras.

It was in British Honduras that I first attended a velorio, or the ceremony of watching with a corpse. The family home consisted of a single long and narrow apartment, rounded at each end, with earthen floor and roof thatched with guava leaves. From the cross poles hung a few hammocks, and in the middle of the room, upon a rude bier made of two boards upheld by casks, lay the dead woman, with a wee Infant clasped in her arms. The face of the mother, who could not have been more than 14 years old, was calm and peaceful, but that of the baby was strangely distorted, as if terrified with its brief look on life. Fresh flowers were scattered upon the scarlet blanket that partially covered the still figures; lighted candles stood at the head and foot, and near by sat the sisters and parents of the dead woman, silent and sad. Inquiring why the husband and father was not among the mourners, I was carelessly informed, as though it was nothing to cause remark, that la brobraerta (the poor dear girl) had never been wedded; and as for the father—quien sabe? A great crowd occupied the house of mourning, laughing and jesting as though the occasion was one of rejoicing rather than sorrow. Many were playing cards. Outside, under a pomegranate tree, refreshments were spread, and music and uproar resounded in startling incongruity with the dread mystery of death.—Cor. Philadelphia Record.

Plant a Lombardy Poplar.

Professor Asa Gray observed that the reason which lies at the bottom of the general belief on the continent of Europe that lightning strikes the Lombardy poplar trees in preference to others is coming to light. Green herbage and green wood—sappy wood—are excellent conductors of electricity. A tree is shattered by lightning only when the discharge reaches the naked trunk or naked branches, which are poorer conductors. An old fashioned Lombardy poplar, by its height, by its complete covering of twigs and small branches, and their foliage, down almost to the ground, and by its sappy wood, makes a capital lightning rod, and a cheap one. Happily no one can patent it and bring it round in a wagon and insist upon trying it. To make it surer the tree should stand in moist ground or near water, for wet ground is a good conductor and dry soil a poor one. It is recommended to plant a Lombardy poplar near the house and another close to the barn. If the ground is dry the nearer the well the better, except for the nuisance of the roots that will get into it.—Boston Budget.

Ahead of the Ring Thieves.

"I have no doubt that the jewelers in this city lose $10,000 or $15,000 a year from ring thieves," said a John street jeweler a few days ago. "The ring thief is usually well dressed and respectable in his appearance. He calls for several trays of rings, and while he is talking to the clerk manages to steal a ring. It is impossible to refuse to place a tray of rings before a customer, so I have hit upon the following scheme: Through each row of rings I run a steel rod; these rods are attached to an iron frame, with hinges at one end and a lock at the other. When a customer wishes to look at the rings I hand out this rack. When necessary, I can take off any ring by unlocking the frame. This has proved a great saving."—New York Sun.

The First Commercial Advertisement.

An English antiquarian has been delving among old newspaper files and has discovered what he says is the first commercial advertisement ever printed in a newspaper. It appeared in The Mercurius Politicus, of London, dated Sept. 30, 1658. It runs as follows: "That Excellent and by all Physitians approved China Drink called by all the Chineans Teha, by other Nations Tay alias Tee, is sold at the Sultaness Head Cophee House, in Sweeting's Rents, by the Royal Exchange, London." At the date of this advertisement tea had been used in England about forty years, but the price was extremely high, often reaching £20 per pound.—Chicago Herald.

A New Dress Material.

The invention of a new dress material promises to give rise to a new industry of no insignificant proportions. It is an artificial silk, which is said to be an excellent imitation of the natural product and is made of a kind of collodion, to which has been added perchloride of iron and tannic acid. The process of manufacture is somewhat long and complicated, and it remains to be seen whether the material can be produced cheap enough to compete with the work of the silkworm.—Chicago News.

Oil for Lubricating Purposes.

The Italian admiralty have recently caused to be carried out a number of experiments with a view to testing the comparative merits of castor oil and of olive oil for lubricating purposes on board ship. From the results obtained they have given orders that henceforth all exposed parts of machinery are to be lubricated exclusively with castor oil, while mineral oils are to be used for cylinder and similar lubrication.—Scientific American.

Philadelphia's Bald Heads.

A Philadelphia barber makes the statement that there are fewer bald heads among the people of wealth and fashion in Philadelphia than among the same class of any other American city.—New York Evening World.

Likes to Be Accurate.

Slithers always likes to be strictly accurate. Upon a recent occasion he was asked the age of his baby, and immediately replied, "Six weeks and thirteen days, thank you."—Harper's Bazar.

Decrease of Indians.

A recent official publication estimates the average annual decrease of the Indians at nearly 2,000. Their present total number in the United States, exclusive of Alaska, is about 245,000.

The stern of a departing ferryboat is more polite than that of other boats. It always returns a bow.—Syracuse Christian Advocate.

A CLAIM TO HUMAN GRATITUDE.

Sickened by the saturnalia of the French revolution, and moved to desperation as Robespierre and Marat were leading the flower of France to the guillotine, she determined that she would put an end to Marat's bloody reign.

Marat had demanded two hundred thousand victims for the guillotine!

He proposed to kill off the enemies of the Revolution to make it perpetual!

Horrible thought!

No wonder it fired the blood of this patriotic peasant maid!

Gaining access to his closely guarded quarters by a subterfuge, she found him in his bath even then inexorable and giving written directions for further slaughter!

He asked her the names of the inimical deputies who had taken refuge in Caen. She told him, and he wrote them down. "That is well! Before a week is over they shall all be brought to the guillotine."

At these words, Charlotte drew from her bosom the knife, and plunged it with supernatural force up to the hilt in the heart of Marat.

"Come to me, my dear friend, come to me," cried Marat, and expired under the blow!

What a lesson in this tragic story! Two hundred, nay, five hundred thousand people would Marat have sacrificed to his unholy passion of power!

Methods are quite as murderous and inexorable as men, and they number their victims by the millions.

The page of history is full of murders by authority and by mistaken ideas! In the practice of medicine alone how many hundreds of millions have been allowed to die and as many more killed by unjustifiable bigotry and by bungling!

But the age is bettering. Men and methods are improving. A few years ago it was worth one's professional life to advise or permit the use of a proprietary medicine. To-day there are not two physicians in any town in this country who do not regularly prescribe some form of proprietory remedy!

H. H. Warner, famed all over the world as the discoverer of Warner's safe cure, began hunting up the old remedies of the Log Cabin days; after long and patient research he succeeded in securing some of the most valuable, among family records, and called them Warner's Log Cabin remedies—the simple preparations of roots, leaves, balsams and herbs which were the successful standbys of our grandmothers. These simple, old-fashioned sarsaparilla, hops and buchu, cough and consumption and other remedies have struck a popular chord and are in extraordinary demand all over the land. They are not the untired and imaginary remedies of some dabster chemist intent on making money, but the long-sought principles of the healing art which for generations kept our ancestors in perfect health, put forth for the good of humanity by one who is known all over the world as a philanthropist—a lover of his fellow man,—whose name is a guarantee of the highest standard of excellence.

The preparations are of decided and known influence over disease, and as in the hands of our grandmothers they raised up the sick, cured the lame, and bound up the wounds of death, so in their new form but olden power as Log Cabin remedies, they are sure to prove the "healing of the nations."

Corday did the world an incalculable service in ridding France of the bigoted and murderous Marat, just as this man is doing humanity a service by re-introducing to the world the simpler and better methods of our ancestors.

The Mexican and His Blanket.

Did you ever hear anybody say "Don't hurry off in the heat of the day without your blanket?" It is a very common expression in the rural districts of the west and south. Well, in Mexico the expression is used as a remonstrance against the departure of a guest. Every Mexican, on coming to town from the country, carries a blanket with him. He does not go to the hotel and ask for lodgings, but finds shelter at almost any private house, particularly among the poor. He then lies down upon the stone floor, rolls himself in his blanket and goes promptly to sleep. In the morning he awakens at daylight, and, asking the blessing of heaven upon the house which sheltered him, he goes out to some plaza and there boils his coffee in the open square.—"R. M. Y." in St. Louis Republic.

Ice Water in Brazil.

"The use of ice water in this country is universal," said an old doctor, "but in Brazil it is but little used. It was thought that a factory for producing artificial ice would be very profitable there, where the temperature is very high. An English syndicate constructed the necessary works, but found that the natives would not touch ice water. Then, to tempt their palates by creating an appetite for it by constant use, the company placed free tanks of ice water upon the street corners of the cities. It was a novel plan, and the fruits of the investment are being borne. The use of ice water is increasing, but it is not yet a universal beverage."—Chicago Herald.

Something New in Leather.

Persons on the outlook for odd things in the way of foot gear have something new in leather in what is called by the trade Kordofan. This is really horse hide, a small part of the skin from the rump of each animal being available for the shoes. It is said to be pleasant to wear, and to last forever or thereabouts. The supply comes from the wild horses of South America and from the zebra and quaggia of Asia. The demand is not yet so extensive as to threaten the extermination of those species.—New York Sun.

Blind People in Russia.

An elaborate investigation has shown that the number of blind people in Russia is very unequally divided among the different races, there being only 8 blind in each 10,000 Poles, 19 in each 10,000 Russians, and as many as 83 in each 10,000 Votyoks. No less than one-eighth of the cases of blindness are due to small pox, and only one-half to direct eye diseases.—Arkansaw Traveler.

PHYLLOXERA AS A BLESSING.

Not long ago a statement went the rounds of the Press that at a meeting of wine-growers in Vienna it had been declared that the planting of the American stock in Austria had proved to be an entire failure as regarding its resistance against phylloxera. In view of the success of the American resistant stock in Sonoma Valley in the vineyards of Messrs. Dresel, Gund-Winkle, Drummond and many others, to say nothing of the great victory it has gained in France over the pest, we are inclined to believe the aforesaid statement a pure fabrication. Reports from France are most encouraging as regards the success of the American resisting vine in that country. A writer in one of the leading journals of France in discussing this question says:

"It is the fashion to decry all things American in Europe, but there is one American thing which even the most cynical European cannot decry, and that is the American grape-vine, grafted upon which the vines of France have conquered the phylloxera. Not only has the American vine helped the French vine to get the better of this destructive insect, but it has actually improved the European varieties of grapes. M. Viette, French Minister of Agriculture, has returned to Paris from a tour made through the vineyards of Central and Southern France, and has made a report which is highly encouraging to his fellow-countrymen. M. Viette declares that the restoration of the French vine by means of the American stock is now a certainty, having passed beyond the field of experiment. The yield of the new vines is generally greater than the old ones before they were attacked with phylloxera; and, what is more, varieties which were not hardy before, and could not be cultivated except with great difficulty, now prove hardy on the American stock. In the important vine-growing department of Herault the vineyards are almost completely restored, and in several other departments restoration is in full progress. The French wine harvest of the present year promises to be a fine one. Herault's product for the year is estimated at 5,000,000 hectoliters, against 3,000,000 last year. Gironde will produce 2,000,000, and so the cheerful statistics go on. Perhaps the phylloxera is not the only pest which may have turned out, in the long run, to be a blessing."

REPUBLICAN NOMINEES.

They Visit Sonoma and are Given a Rousing Reception.

Between four and five hundred people turned out last Saturday evening to welcome the visit to Sonoma of the Republican County Nominees. The reception was most enthusiastic. Their arrival was heralded by the booming of anvils, the glare of bon-fires and martial music. At an early hour in the evening people from all parts of the valley commenced to flock into town and by eight o'clock the City Pavilion, which had been secured by the Harrison and Morton Club for this particular event on account of its great seating capacity, was a scene of life and animation.

Ex-Assemblyman Jas. McDonnell, Jr., President of the Harrison and Morton Club, presided over the meeting, and in a few appropriate remarks introduced S. K. Dougherty, nominee for Superior Judge, as the first speaker. Mr. Dougherty, is a middle-aged, dignified gentleman, well read in the law and his speech, which was entirely non-partizan, was well received.

G. F. Allen, candidate for County Clerk, was next introduced by the Chairman. Mr. Allen has a fine voice and his half-hour's speech on the benefits of protection and against the Mills bill was heartily applauded.

Jas. H. McNabb, candidate for the Assemby from this district, was the next speaker. By way of introduction Mr. McNabb stated that he was not a speech-maker and would read his remarks from manuscript. The gentlaman is one of the oldest editors in the State. He is a profound thinker, yields a most forcible, gifted and graceful pen, which more than offsets his oratorical shortcomings.

Then followed the introduction of E. P. Colgan, nominee for Sheriff, who was received with three cheers and a tiger. He made a few remarks, thanking the audience for their reception and stating that he was running for re-election because after serving two years he liked the duties of the office so well that he would like to be Sheriff for two years longer.

W. I. Robinson, candidate for Recorder, was the next speaker. The gentleman in a quiet and unostentatious manner made a ten minutes' speech: Mr. Robinson said:

Mr. Chairman, ladies and gentlemen: I am here only for the purpose of making your acquaintance, and if possible to secure your favorable consideration. Having received the nomination by the Republican party for the important office of Auditor and Recorder of this county, I deem it my duty to come before the people in order that they may know who it is that is asking for preferment at their hands. I am no stranger, however, in this county, having lived here continuously since 1865, some twenty-three years, that is in the northern portion of the county, what we term Northern Sonoma—Healdsburg and Cloverdale. There is a bond of sympathy between that section and this, the one being at the extreme north end of the county and the other at the extreme southeast, and both similarly situated as to the surrounding hills and both engaged in the same general industry, that of grape-growing and wine-making.

During all the years of my residence in this county I have been engaged in public business of a character which seems peculiarly to qualify me to fill the office of Auditor and Recorder. Six years ago I was a candidate on the Republican ticket for this same position. Many of you no doubt voted for me at that time and will remember my name. I have sought that place because of this peculiar adaptability to my tastes and business training and because of a feeling that I could worthily fill it with credit to myself and satisfaction to the public. Not being gifted with oratorical ability and the position to which I aspire being a non-political one, I will not discuss the political issues of the day, but simply say in regard to them that I am in accord with my party. There never was any doubt about my political faith, even the Democrats of my acquaintance know that I have always been a Republican, and I believe that many of them respect me from the fact that they always knew where to find me politically. I am nothing if not a patriot. I love my country and to me the American flag is the most beautiful emblem that floats in the breeze of Heaven, and represents the greatest Nation upon the face of the earth. This sentiment, I assure you, is entertained by all the gentlemen associated with me upon the county ticket, and as the Republican party propose in this auspicious year of 1888 to take charge of affairs in Sonoma county, and in the State of California, and in the Nation, therefore we are feeling deeply the responsibility which rests upon us as candidates, and we desire to hold up the banner of Republicanism high, so that no immoral stain shall rest upon our escutcheon, and in the event of being chosen we will hold ourselves amenable to the people for the faithful performance of duty, and have an eye single to our own honor and the glory of the great party which we represent. Do not judge from this that we are ungenerous to political opponents, because such is not the case. I have lived in Democratic communities all my life and have long since learned to respect men of all shades of political opinion. We have many friends among them and expect to receive their votes.

M. K. Cady, nominee for Supervisor, who needed no introduction, as he is well and favorably known to everybody in Sonoma Township, made a few remarks in which he stated, among other things, that he was a candidate for Supervisor of the First District and if elected he promised to serve the people to the best of his ability and faithfully perform the duties of the office.

Alfred W. Dana, nominee for County Treasurer, was then presented to the meeting. Mr. Dana stated that he was a deputy County Treasury under Treasurer Tupper and if the people saw fit to elect him he would serve them faithfully and to the best of his ability. He was given a hearty welcome by those present.

L. E. Reckseeker, who seeks the office of Surveyor, was also introduced to the meeting.

Albert G, Burnett, candidate for District Attorney, was the next speaker. He was received with three rousing cheers and acknowledged the greeting with one of the neatest and most pleasing speeches that a Sonoma audience has listened to for many a day. As it was getting quite late Mr. Burnett was compelled to cut down his speech. In conclusion he stated that if the voters present would support him he would pledge his word that if elected to do all in his power to send every one of them to the State Prison who was guilty of transgressing the law. This sally of wit brought down the house. The meeting then adjourned with three cheers for the Republican party and its nominees.

The Woes of the Candidate.

He ariseth in the morning, and lo! the enemy hath gotten his record, and the newsboy crieth it aloud in the streets of the city.

He seeth his substance consumed by the striker and the worker, while the heeler devoureth him even as the locust doth the green field.

All day long do fellows of the baser sort lie in wait for him at his gateway, and say lend me five shekels, the which when they have gotten they spend at the beer saloon of his enemy and laugh ha! ha!

His days are filled with the sound of the brass band and his slumber is broken by the scribes, who regard not the proprieties, but awaken him at all hours and command him be thou interviewed, and straightway publish unto the people words the like which he had uttered not.

He maketh a speech unto the people and the enemy crieth he is windy, and a man of vain words.

He sayeth naught, but shaketh the hand of the populace, and lo! the people declare he is a chump and knoweth not what to say.

He is prudent with his treasure, and lo! the striker, the heeler and the bummer stand in the streets and cry he is a chilly mug, and loveth not his fellow-men.

He giveth his shekels to the cause, and straightway the scribes and prophets of the enemy proclaim from the house tops that he is a boodler and cry out with a loud voice: "This man would destroy the Ægis of our liberties."—Lincoln Journal.

The Mizner Meeting.

Hon. L. B. Mizner, nominee on the Republican ticket for Presidential Elector, addressed the people of Sonoma last Tuesday evening in Union Hall. The speaker was by far the best that has addressed a Sonoma audience in the interest of the Republican party since the campaign opened.

A WOMAN'S WAY.

A Startling Business Proposition.

A little over six weeks ago Mrs. Fowler of 327 Ellis street, San Francisco, stopped in at a leading city druggist's to ask what effect Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla, about which she had heard so much recently, would have in cases of dyspepsia and sick headache. She was assured that in most cases it would relieve both. She was, however, so incredulous that finally the druggist gave her a bottle, not to be paid for unless it effected a cure. A proposition so startlingly practical has seldom, if ever before, been made. The following just received is the convincing conclusion, and tells its own story:

San Francisco, February 8, 1888.

Dear Sir: "I write to admit that, notwithstanding my misgivings, Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla did all that you promised. I had tried so many prescriptions, to no purpose, that I had come to believe nothing would relieve my dyspepsia and sick headaches, but I have not had a return of either since I commenced taking it. I believe I am permanently cured, but will, out of an abundance of caution, continue to take it regularly for a while yet. You have my permission to make this public, for it is my belief that a remedy that will cure dyspepsia and prevent sick headaches should be generally known. Respectfully,

Mrs. M. Fowler,
327 Ellis street.

A LUCKY TRIAL.

Dear Sir: It affords me great pleasure to send you this voluntary statement of my experience in testing the merits of Joy's Sarsaparilla. For the past five years I have been troubled with an exceedingly sluggish liver, and within the past two years it has brought within its trail a thoroughly disordered stomach, including loss of appetite and distress after eating, pains in the back and kidneys, and boils around my neck and face. I have tried several remedies which are advertised as specially for the liver, and never could get more than temporary relief of about a week or two. I was recommended to try a bottle of Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla as a test, and while taking the first bottle I became convinced of its merits for I could feel it was working a change in me. I have taken five bottles, and during that time my troubles have left me. Everything is working full and regular, in fact it has cleansed, purified and braced me up generally. I feel like a new man. You are at perfect liberty to use this as you see fit, or you can refer whom you please to Prudence! Prudence!

In medication, as in aught else, prudence should be our guide. Yet thousands cast it to the winds. Every new nostrum finds its patrons, the medical empires of every false school have their gulls. Every change in the gamut of humbug is rung successfully—for a time at least—the notes being furnished by the credulous. In happy contrast to the many advertised impostures of the day stands Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, now in its third decade of popularity, approved and recommended by physicians, endorsed by the press of many lands, sought and prized by invalids everywhere. It is an ascertained specific for and preventive of malarial diseases, chronic indigestion, liver complaint and constipation, checks the growth of rheumatism and neuralgia, is a peerless invigorant and useful diuretic. Nervous people benefit by it.

Fine music by the Sonoma Valley String Band of five pieces and a very entertaining programme of selections and recitations will be presented during the fair to be held at Union Hall. *

G. H. Hotz, manager of Smith's Cash Store, has just received a fresh supply of Fall and Winter goods, which he is offering at exceedingly low prices for cash. Ladies call and see for yourselves.

Thos. Pigeon lately of Belmond, Iowa has opened a photographic establishment adjoining the INDEX-TRIBUNE office. Mr. Pigeon is a first-class artist and our people should take advantage of his brief stay in Sonoma and have "the shadow taken ere the substance fades."

The Santa Rosa and Carquinez Railroad is again running two passenger trains daily between Vallejo and Santa Rosa, much to the convenience of the people of this valley, who will now be enabled to get the city papers at 12 M., instead of at 7 P M., as for some time past.

White wine grapes—Reislings, Golden Chasselas and Gutedel have sold the present season in this valley from $25 to $30 per ton. Of the red wine grapes, Zinfandels have brought from $13 to $15 per ton, while the Rose of Peru, Black Hamburg, Malvoisie and Missions have sold for less.

Public Administrator John Tivnen has filed a petition in the Superior Court of this county for the probate of the will of Peter G. Augsberg, who died in Copenhagen, Denmark, in 1885. The estate in this county consists of $698 48 on deposit in the county treasury. The petition will be heard by Judge Pressley on the 29th inst.

A four-point buck weighing 160 pounds was killed by Matt Hurbred last Saturday about one mile north of Gen. Vallejo's residence. This makes four deer that have been killed in that locality within the past month. The buck was purchased by Al. Sutter of the Sonoma meat market and in less than an hour after being dressed every pound of the meat had been sold at 20 cents per pound.

Hon. Robt. Howe, candidate for the Assembly, and the Democratic Nominees will meet the people of Sonoma on Tuesday evening, October 30th. This meeting will be one of the grandest of the campaign. Mr. Howe is making many friends all over the district among all classes of citizens. Mr. Howe and the nominees will also speak at Glen Ellen on Monday evening, October 29th.

The attention of contractors and builders is called to "Notice to Bidders" in another column. The notice calls attention to the fact that sealed proposals will be received at this office up to Monday, October 29th, for the erection of a cottage building. As we desire that all our builders should have an even show in getting the contract to build our county the plans and specifications can be seen at any time at this office.

While returning from a recent visit to Sonoma Messrs. G. F. King, Wm. Simpson, Jailor Breitenbach and J. J. Wystyrk of Santa Rosa met with an accident opposite the Wilson ranch, near Glen Ellen, by the upsetting of their carriage. All were thrown out but escaped injury except Mr. Simpson, who had an arm badly hurt. The carriage was righted and being but little damaged the party proceeded on their way to Santa Rosa, where they arrived an hour or two later without further mishap.

A "COCK AND BULL STORY."

Col. Donahue Denies that He has Sold Out His Railroads.

THE SONOMA VALLEY NARROW GUAGE ROAD TO BE MADE A BROAD GUAGE.

Col. J. Mervyn Donahue, who returned from the East on Thursday of last week, passed through Sonoma last Saturday morning en route to San Francisco. He emphatically denies the rumor published in the Chronicle last week, and republished in the papers of this county, to the effect that he had sold out to the Seligman syndicate of New York. Col. Donahue says that all the stories about his trying to sell either the Sonoma Valley, San Francisco and North Pacific and the Napa and Marin road are pure fabrications. "It is true," he said that my relatives and myself went to New York to adjust some matters pertaining to the companies. There was differences among us as to the management of the property. They have been settled. I am now the sole manager of all the companies.

"The interests of Mrs. Donahue and Mrs. Von Schroeder, however, are so protected that no future movements can endanger them. If they wish to sell out it must be to me, and vice versa." His visit to New York was simply to bond his system of railroads to raise the sum of $1,500,000 to pay for his two new extensions, the Marin and Napa road and the Cloverdale and Ukiah road. These roads he had started to build himself with but little available money. But now through arrangements with J. & W. Seligman, the necessary bonds will be issued to cover the expense of building the two branches. No new lines will be constructed at present, but when traffic demands they will be built.

He stated that the Sonoma Valley narrow guage road will be changed to a broad or standard guage and the road extended to Los Guilicos. This work will be commenced next spring.

Colonel Donahue said further that there had been no semblance of a negotiation for the sale of the property either with the Chicago & North Western, Union Pacific or Southern Pacific Companies. He never had any intention of selling out, and he did not know that the companies mentioned wanted to buy. With the Southern Pacific Company he was on amicable terms, but he considered that he had a territory for his road that it had no right to encroach upon. All that he wanted was to be let alone.

The Trustees of this city met in special session last Saturday afternoon for the purpose of introducing an ordinance creating a fire department, discussing the advisability of moving the Plaza fence nearer the street curbings and to near the petition of the Sonoma Valley Exhibit Committee for the use of the Pavilion for maintaining a permanent exhibit of the products of the valley.

An ordinance creating a Fire Department was introduced by Trustee Poppe, and upon motion was ordered filed.

Trustee Wegner, consenting to the postponement of the Plaza fence proposition, the consideration of the same was laid over until the next regular meeting.

The petition of the Exhibit Committee asking for use of the Pavilion was referred to the Committee on Buildings after which the Trustees adjourned.

Popular Candidates.

The Santa Rosa "Democrat" in in speaking of the Democratic candidates' meeting at Occidental last Saturday evening, says: P. N. Stofen nominee for County Treasurer, made the impression that he was an extremely modest and handsome young man and won the good will of the ladies and good feeling of the voters.

John Tivnen, candidate for Coroner, also made a good impression and promised if elected to sit lightly on the bodies of any of his hearers who might die by accident and to divide the estate fairly with the widows and orphans.

Republican Speaking.

The Hon. C. A. Garter of Red Bluff, one of the best speakers for the Republican party in this State, will address the people at the City Pavilion on the evening of Friday, October 26th. As this will in all probability be the last Republican meeting of the campaign it is desired that every Republican in Sonoma Township should turn out and give the distinguished speaker a grand reception.

Depot at Madrone Vineyard.

A large force of mechanics and workmen are employed this week constructing a freight and passenger depot at Yulupa station on the line of the Santa Rosa and Carquinez Railroad, between El Verano and Glen Ellen. When complete the structure is designed to afford shelter for several carloads of wine or fruit, and will be a great convenience to shippers in the upper Sonoma Valley.

Sonoma Valley Exhibit Committee.

The members of the Sonoma Valley Exhibit Committee met pursuant to call of the Chairman, at the City Pavilion, last Saturday. The following members were present: S. H. Shaw, Vice-Chairman, presiding; R. A. Poppe, Secretary and Messrs. Cady, Lawrence, Poppe, Granice and Howe.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved.

Messrs. Cady and Poppe, the special committee to co-operate with the members of the County Committee, submitted a report of their transactions which was adopted. They also submitted a statement as to the disposition of the $100 appropiated toward making a display at the late Mechanics' Fair, which was accepted and ordered spread upon the minutes.

Messrs. Shaw, Howe and Cady were appointed a committee to confer with the Committee on Buildings of the Board of Trustees to ascertain upon what terms and what conditions the Pavilion could be secured as a place for a permanent exhibit of the products of Sonoma Valley.

The members of the Board of Trustees expressed themselves as willing to permit the committee to maintain an exhibit there free of rent, subject to such conditions as may be suggested by the Committee on Buildings.

A statement of the receipts of the special committee, Messrs. Cady and Poppe, on Mechanics' Fair, 1888, was read and approved as follows:

Wine and Vine Notes.

Geo. H. Engler has a fine crop of Zinfandels this season. They will average 24 per cent sugar.

G. C. P. Sears' vineyard of 150 acres of Zinfandels has produced a remarkable yield this year. One hundred acres will average six tons to the acre.

Large quantities of grapes are being hauled daily from various parts of the country to the immense wine-cellar of Kohler & Frohling near Glen Ellen.

T. S. Glaister has made 8,000 gallons of Reisling so far this season. Thursday he commenced crushing his Golden Chasselas, of which he has about twenty acres, which will average 6¾ tons to the acre.

D. D. Davisson, whose wine cellar is located in the northern part of town, is engaged in crushing 140 tons of white wine grapes from the Craig vineyard. Every ton of grapes from this vineyard has cost him $30 per ton.

Glen Ellen Gossip.

Mrs. A. J. Hubsch started for her home in Red Bluff Monday.

A band of gipsies are encamped on the creek a little above town.

Henry Chauvet, who has been quite ill for some time, has decided to go to San Francisco for medical treatment.

To-day a crazy man appeared on our streets. He was taken in charge by Constable Law and taken to the county seat.

Last Saturday evening some of the most enthusiastic of our Republicans chartered a car and wended their way to Sonoma to hear the oratory of their candidates.

Personal and Social.

Mrs. F. McG. Martin, Superintendent of schools, visited several of the public schools in this valley Thursday.

Mrs. Dora Stofen, Mrs. E. P. Cutter, Mrs. Chas. McHarvey and Mrs. M. P. Akers attended the Grand Chapter of California, Order of the Eastern Star, in session the past week in San Francisco, as delegates from Valley of the Moon Chapter.

A Company that Can't or Won't Pay.

The Verano Land Company, incorporated last Winter and which built and laid out a town (on paper) of vast dimensions about two or three miles northwest of this place, has again been sued. This time by De Young of the San Francisco "Chronicle." He asks the courts to give him judgment for $480 for advertising the town of Verano several months ago. The directors of the company are G. H. Maxwell, A. D. Bacon, F. P. Bacon, J. C. Stump and F. B. Hooper.

S. K. DOUGHERTY.

[Santa Rosa Republican

In a few weeks the people will be called upon to select a long list of officers. While we burn our powder, do our shouting and make our speeches in behalf of the national candidates, the officers nearest to us are really of most importance to us.

During this, the last month of the campaign, it is our purpose to give some of the leading facts in the lives of the Republican candidates. This is not done in order that we may bestow on these men fulsome or unmerited praise, but that the people may become as well acquainted as possible with the men whom the Republican party has named for the several county offices to be filled this fall. In doing this work we begin with S. K. Dougherty, Esq., the candidate of the party for Superior Judge.

We do not know of any better way to introduce Mr. Dougherty than by re-printing the following article from the Berrin, Michigan County Journal:

"We are in receipt of a copy of the Petaluma, California, Argus, containing an account of the Sonoma County Republican Convention, and it gave us great pleasure to notice that Samuel K. Dougherty, an old Berrien Springs boy and schoolmate of ours, is the nominee for Superior Judge of that county.

Mr. Dougherty is a son of the late William Dougherty, one of the pioneers of this county and a lifelong Republican. At the early age of fourteen he left his home and relatives here and went abroad to carve his own future.

He took a situation in a wholesale house in Detroit and at the age of 21, of his own free will and expense, sought to educate himself in Massachusetts. He took the three years preparatory course in Latin, Greek and mathematics at Graylock, and then entered Amherst college and took the four years course and graduated as Bachelor of Arts, in 1878, with the honors of his class. We remember well how proud we were and how proud his father was to see him return to his old home an educated man.

The next good report was that he was a member of the Union College of Law and studying under Lyman Trumbull, one of Abraham Lincoln's cabinet.

Three years later we hear that he is admitted to the bar of Illinois. One year after that he has located at Petaluma, Sonoma county, California, and, after a practice of six years, is nominated to this honorable position.

Young men of Berrien Springs, mark the good fortune and success that has attended and rewarded grit, energy and perseverance.

Mr. Dougherty entered his profession with a solid foundation to build upon, and if he has been as studious during his practice as he was a student we doubt not his qualification and ability, and wish him success."

"Conversations with several members of the bar of this county confirm our, heretofore, good opinion of Mr. Dougherty. We are assured that he is in every respect worthy and fully capable of presiding upon the bench. His acquaintance with the common law practice and pleading has given him easy insight into the code practice and pleading existing in this State, and his practice in this county has been notably successful.

Our candidate was presented to the Republican Convention by the Petaluma delegation, composed of its leading citizens, and he received a unanimous nomination. His manliness of character, his entire freedom from narrow and sordid views, his stern sense of right, his principles of honor, his clear intellect, his cultivated literary taste, his enlarged and liberal views make him well deserving of the honor conferred upon him by that convention and the support of the people of Sonoma county.

He is naturally studious, temperate and ambitious and is of a ripe age to contribute faithful and honest work in the Superior Court of Sonoma county."

The Swift Specific Co., Atlanta Ga:

Gentlemen: Inclosed please find an order for six bottles of your most valuable medicine. And in sending this order let me tell you why I do so. Several years ago I contracted an exceedingly bad case of blood poison. I tried a physician, the best at command, but secured no benefit. My throat began to get sore, and my body covered with sores and ulcers. Going from bad to worse, I felt that my grave must be reached in the near future. I gave up the docter's treatment and with a despairing hope I commenced taking your medicine. I began to improve from the first bottle, and in a short time the ulcers healed and my skin cleared off and was entirely well. One year ago a case of catarrh developed in my system. The physician done his best, but could not cure me; but two bottles of Swift's Specific gave me permanent relief.

I. He is athorough book-keeper and an elegant scribe.

II. His many years experience as Station Agt. for the S. F. & N. P. R. R., and Western Union Telegraph operator, has fitted him especially for such an office as Auditor and Recorder.

III. He has been a resident of Sonoma county for many years and has never filled any county office.

IV. He is a young man of family and being capable he is deserving of support.

V. He is a quiet, industrious man, trustworthy to the utmost and temperate in all things.

VI. He belongs to no clique, is not put forward by any boss to have the office for political patronage.

VII. He has been a Republican in politics from honest convictions, but never took any active part among politicians, and stands well among all parties.

VIII. He has lived a plain life among his fellow men, and now comes out as a candidate that he may be placed in a position where his natural ability is at its fort and his ambition direct.

IX. Especially to the citizens of our district. We should have a personal pride in having a representative from this district in the corps of county officials.

X. And last but not least, he needs the office and the office needs him.

A Warning.

The modes of death's approach are various, and statistics show conclusively that more persons die from diseases of the Throat and Lungs than any other. It is probable that everyone without exception, receives vast numbers of Tubercle Germs into the system and where these germs fall upon suitable soil they start into life and develop, at first slowly and is shown by a slight tickling sensation in the throat and if allowed to continue their ravages they extend to the lungs producing Consumption and to the head, causing Catarrh. Now all this is dangerous and if allowed to proceed will in time cause death. At the onset you must act with promptness; allowing a cold to go without attention is dangerous and may lose you your life. As soon as you feel that something is wrong with your Throat, Lungs or Notsrils, obtain a bottle of Boschee's German Syrup. It will give you immediate relief.

Milroy, Mifflin County, Pa. Editor of "The World," New York, N. Y.—Dear Sir: The case of Mrs. John Gemmill presents a striking example of suffering and marvelous cure. She has lived in and near Milroy for 20 years, and is 69. In 1864 she was thrown from a wagon, sustaining serious injury to her spine. From that time till 1883 she was a helpless cripple, unable to walk. | During these long nineteen years of suffering, she found no relief from the numerous remedies she had tried. In 1885 her daughter read the advertisement of St. Jacobs Oil, and she bought two bottles. The Oil was applied, and before the second bottle was exhausted by Mrs. Gemmill, she was able to walk about and has been completely cured. M. THOMPSON, Postmaster.

TESTING DRINKING WATER.

Unsatisfactory Results Which Are Sometimes Obtained—Remarkable Tests.

We are giving more and more attention to the purity of drinking water as it becomes more apparent that infection of almost every kind travels by water. It becomes of the highest importance to know whether the tests usually resorted to for the detection of organic impurities are trustworthy. If dangerous impurities slip past these tests, they afford no protection against the transmission of disease germs. The Sanitarian prints a paper by Dr. J. A. Tanner, of Boston, giving results of some of his experiments in this direction, which may almost be called startling.

Dr. Tanner declares boldly that the chemical processes relied upon for testing water are "as apt to condemn a good water as they are to commend it, and to commend an impure water when they should condemn it," and his statements go far to support his theory. For example, if 5 per cent. of milk or any beef extract be added to a gallon of distilled water the processes will condemn it as impure because it contains organic matter. Add a few million of disease germs to a gallon of distilled water and none of the processes will discover them, because the quantity of organic matter is not large enough. Yet the one mixture is entirely harmless, and the other, if we accept the germ theory, is dangerous. The combustion process relies upon the proportions found of carbon and nitrogen; the ammonia process upon the presence of free ammonia and albumoid ammonia; the permanganate process upon the amount of oxygen required to oxidize the organic matter. All of these tests are extremely delicate, and a slight inaccuracy is enough to cause an impure water to be rated as pure, or the opposite.

The fact that they disagree wildly in their results with the same water is enough to shake faith in all of them. Dr. Tanner shows this by reference to the investigation conducted by Professor J. Mallet for the national board of health some years ago, with which he was connected. Nineteen samples of natural water, believed from actual use to be wholesome, were examined by these processes. They agreed that ten were potable and three were not, but as to six, or one-third of the number, they disagreed totally. Then nineteen samples were taken of "natural waters which there seemed to be fair grounds for believing have actually caused disease." But only four of these were rejected as unwholesome; as to nine, or one-half, there was no agreement, and six, or one-third, were pronounced wholesome by all the processes. Then twenty samples were taken of natural water of doubtful but suspected character, and as to these the results were really more unfavorable than as to the waters known to be dangerous.

The most remarkable of all the tests were with twenty samples of good water, to which were added various pollutions, such as sewage from various sources, black vomit and like offensive and poisonous substances. Only eight of these samples, less than half, were condemned by all the processes; as to nine the reports did not agree, and three the processes actually concurred in pronouncing good. Water, to which enough of a weak mixed sewage from a large public sewer had been added to create, it was believed, serious danger of typhoid, was pronounced to be of "great organic purity" by two processes, and "good" by the third. A larger admixture of the same sewage, as much as 5 per cent. was pronounced of "medimn" quality by two processes, and "bad" by only one. Even more striking examples could be given. Yet the same processes condemned as impure the Lake Drummond water from the Dismal swamp, which is in part the water supply of Portsmouth, Va., and the Cochituate of Boston, simply because of the presence of vegetable matter contributed by leaves, roots, etc.—New York Tribune.

Mountain Climbing for Invalids.

Oertel has extended his advocacy of mountain climbing, as a curative agency, to other forms of heart disease besides such as are dependent upon or associated with corpulency—namely, to all forms of "weak heart," and also to valvular defects. For this purpose he prefers resorts surrounded by mountains, on the sides of which graduated walks, of increasing difficulty, and extending up to between three thousand and four thousand feet can be mapped out. "It is by no means a matter of indifference how you walk up these ascents. It is to be done in a strictly prescribed manner. The hills are to be ascended slowly, and the pace must be as even as possible, with no talking and no interruptions. This may not be attainable at first, but it is the end to be aimed at.

"Then the pace and the breathing must, in a sort of way, keep time; with one step the patient should make an inspiration and with the next an expiration; both acts should be equal and regular in length, neither longer nor shorter than the step. One foot is raised with the beginning of the inspiration and put down as it ends; the other foot makes its step, in the same manner, with the expiration. These precautions must be minutely observed, or palpitation and difficulty of breathing will be induced. The patient may lean on a stick, but he must not pause often in his walk; but he may rest for half an hour or an hour after the completion of one of the appointed tasks. The cure will be slow and gradual, requiring great patience; it should last from four to six weeks, and it may have to be repeated several times in the year."—Home Journal.

The Czar Chopping Wood.

The yachting party of the czar and his family has been quite an idyl. The imperial party picnicked on an island; a boat was filled with provisions and all requirements for a good lunch, but no attendants were allowed to land, the czar and his family having resolved to enjoy themselves al fresco and all alone. And they actually laid the cloth, lighted the fire and cooked the fish and made the tea themselves.

It must have been a grand sight to see the autocrat of all the Russias with his coat off, making up the fire. He owned afterward to having grown very tired over chopping the wood and being on his knees trying to make it burn up; the princesses came and had a blow at it, now and again, to encourage him, and the czarina busied herself meanwhile cutting the bread. Ah! how good it must have tasted, that luncheon on a little island all to themselves, and far from the din of a court, the strife of politics, the fear of conspiracies; and how loth the parents and children alike must have been to leave it and realize that their summer holiday was nearly over!—London Modern Society.

"DOCTORING OLD TIME."

A Striking Picture—A Revival of Old Time Simplicities.

In one of Harper's issues is given a very fine illustration of Roberts' celebrated painting, known as "Doctoring Old Time." It represents a typical old-timer, with his bellows, blowing the dust from an ancient clock, with its cords and weights carefully secured. One of these clocks in this generation is appreciated only as a rare relic.

The suggestive name, "Doctoring Old Time," brings to our mind another version of the title, used for another purpose—"Old Time Doctoring."

We learn, through a reliable source, that one of the enterprising proprietary medicine firms of the country, has been for years investigating the formulas and medical preparations used in the beginning of this century, and even before, with a view of ascertaining why people in our great-grandfathers' time enjoyed a health and physical vigor so seldom found in the present generation. They now think they have secured the secret or secrets. They find that the prevailing opinion that then existed, that "Nature has a remedy for every existing disorder," was true, and acting under this belief, our grandparents used the common herbs and plants. Continual trespass upon the forest domain, has made these herbs less abundant and has driven them further from civilization, until they have been discarded, as remedial agents because of the difficulty of obtaining them.

H. H. Warner, proprietor of Warner's safe cure and founder of the Warner observatory, Rochester, N. Y., has been pressing investigations in this direction, into the annals of old family histories, until he has secured some very valuable formulas, from which his firm is now preparing medicines, to be sold by all druggists.

They will, we learn, be known under the general title of "Warner's Log Cabin remedies." Among these medicines will be a "sarsaparilla," for the blood and liver, "Log Cabin hops and buchu remedy," for the stomach, etc., "Log Cabin cough and consumption remedy," "Log Cabin hair tonic," "Log Cabin extract," for internal and external use, and an old valuable discovery for catarrh, called "Log Cabin rose cream." Among the list is also a "Log Cabin plaster," and a "Log Cabin liver pill."

From the number of remedies, it will be seen that they do not propose to cure all diseases with one preparation. It is believed by many that with these remedies a new era is to dawn upon suffering humanity and that the close of the nineteenth century will see these roots and herbs, as compounded under the title of Warner's Log Cabin remedies, as popular as they were at its beginning. Although they come in the form of proprietary medicines, yet they will be none the less welcome, for suffering humanity has become tired of modern doctoring and the public has great confidence in any remedies put up by the firm of which H. H. Warner is the head. The people have become suspicious of the effects of doctoring with poisonous drugs. Few realize the injurious effects following the prescriptions of many modern physicians. These effects of poisonous drugs, already prominent, will become more pronounced in coming generations. Therefore we can cordially wish the old fashioned new remedies the best of success.

Don't Experiment.

You cannot afford to waste time in experimenting when your lungs are in danger. Consumption always seems at first only a cold. Do not permit any dealer to impose upon you with some cheap imitation of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, but be sure you get the genuine. Because he can make more profit he may tell you he has something just as good, or just the same. Don't be deceived, but insist upon getting Dr. King's New Discovery, which is guaranteed to give relief in all Throat, Lung and Chest affections. Trial bottle free at E. Wegner's Drug Store.

Remember This.

This office is prepared to turn out on short notice all kind of Job Printing, such as

Cards,
Blanks,
Tickets,
Receipts,
Billheads,
Pamphlets,
Statements,
Note heads,
Programmes,
Letter heads,

Briefs, Transcripts,

His Business Booming.

Probably no one thing has caused such a general revival of trade at E. Wegner's Drug Store as his giving away to his customers of so many free trial bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption. His trade is simply enormous in this very valuable article from the fact that it always cures and never disappoints. Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Bronchitis, Croup and all throat and lung diseases quickly cured. Your can test it before buying by getting a trial bottle free, large size $1. Every bottle warranted.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve.

The Best Salve in the world for Cuts, Bruises, Sores, Ulcers, Salt Rheum, Fever Sores, Tetter, Chapped Hands, Chilblains, Corns and all Skin Eruptions, and positively cures Piles, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction, or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by E. Wegner.

Consumption Surely Cured.

To THE EDITOR—Please inform your readers that I have a positive remedy for the above named disease. By its timely use thousands of hopeless cases have been permanently cured. I shall be glad to send two bottles of my remedy FREE to any of your readers who have consumption if they will send me their express and postoffice address. Respectfully, T. A. SLOCUM M. C., 181 Pearl st. New York.

The Union Hotel is first class in every respect.

LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

SURELY VEGETABLE! PERFECTLY HARMLESS!

Unequaled as a LIVER PILL. Does not gripe. ONE PELLET A DOSE.

SMALLEST, CHEAPEST, EASIEST TO TAKE.

Beware of Imitations, containing Poisonous Minerals. Always ask for Dr. Pierce's Pellets, which are little Sugar-coated Pills, or Anti-bilious Granules.

Being Purely Vegetable, Dr. Pierce's Pellets operate without disturbance to the system, diet, or occupation. Put up in glass vials, hermetically sealed. Always fresh and reliable. They are a gentle LAXATIVE, or an active PURGATIVE, according to size of dose.

SICK HEADACHE,

Bilious Headache, Dizziness, Constipation, Indigestion, Bilious Attacks, and all derangements of the stomach and bowels, are promptly relieved and permanently cured by the use of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets. In explanation of the remedial power of these Pellets over so great a variety of diseases, it may truthfully be said that their action upon the system is universal, not a gland or tissue escaping their sanative influence. Sold by druggists, for 25 cents a vial. Manufactured at the Chemical Laboratory of WORLD'S DISPENSARY MEDICAL ASSOCIATION, No. 663 Main St., Buffalo, N. Y.

is offered by the manufacturers of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy, for a case of Catarrh in the Head which they cannot cure.

SYMPTOMS OF CATARRH.—Dull, heavy headache, obstruction of the nasal passages, discharges falling from the head into the throat, sometimes profuse, watery, and acrid, at others, thick, tenacious, mucous, purulent, bloody and putrid; the eyes are weak and watery; there is ringing in the ears, deafness, hacking or coughing to clear the throat, expectoration of offensive matter, together with scabs from ulcers; the voice is changed and has a "nasal twang"; the breath is offensive; smell and taste are impaired; there is a sensation of dizziness, with mental depression, a hacking cough and general debility. Only a few of the above-named symptoms are likely to be present in any one case. Thousands of cases annually, without manifesting half of the above symptoms, result in consumption, and end in the grave. No disease is so common, more deceptive and dangerous, or less understood by physicians.

By its mild, soothing, and healing properties, Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy cures the worst cases of Catarrh, "Cold in the Head," Coryza, and Catarrhal Headache.

Sold by druggists everywhere; 50 cents.

"Untold Agony from Catarrh."

Prof. W. HAUSNER, the famous mesmerist, of Rhoen, N. Y., writes: "Some ten years ago I suffered untold agony from chronic nasal catarrh. My family physician gave me up as incurable, and said I must die. My case was such a bad one, that every day, towards sunset, my voice would become so hoarse I could barely speak above a whisper. In the morning my coughing and clearing of my throat would almost strangle me. By the use of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy, in three months, I was a well man, and the cure has been permanent."

"Constantly Hawking and Spitting."

THOMAS J. RUSSING, Esq., 826 Pine Street, St. Louis, Mo., writes: "I was a great sufferer from catarrh for three years. At times I could hardly breathe, and was constantly hawking and spitting, and for the last eight months could not breathe through the nostrils. I thought nothing could be done for me. Luckily, I was advised to try Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy, and I am now a well man. I believe it to be the only sure remedy for catarrh now manufactured, and one box cured me. Give it a fair trial and you will find astonishing results and a permanent cure."
